SOCIAL JUSTICE STRATEGIES

AMPARO CID

Amparo Cid graduated magna cum laude from Santa Clara University and received her J.D. from UC Davis School of Law. She is the proud daughter of immigrant factory workers whose story of perseverance, hard work, and love for their family is shared by countless others. Ms. Cid has expertise building partnerships; crafting systemic solutions around health, environmental justice issues, and immigration; fostering more accountable and inclusive governance; providing technical assistance to advance social justice.

Ms. Cid previously worked as a Program Officer at Sierra Health Foundation. In that role, she led an effort, the San Joaquin Valley Health Fund, that is a model for philanthropy to advance health equity in underresourced areas. Prior to her role in philanthropy, Ms. Cid was the Director of the Sustainable Rural Communities Project at California Rural Legal Assistance Foundation (CRLAF) where she had the privilege of working to advance local, regional, and statewide efforts. At CRLAF, Amparo obtained millions for rural communities (funding health care, water quality pilots, and infrastructure projects) and co-sponsored legislation in the California State Legislature that was signed into law.

Ms. Cid has experience litigating, representing clients in employment law matters, and transactional law work in the areas of Estate Planning and Immigration Law. She is a member of the State Bar of California.
